

By way of introduction, I am an Executive Recruiter with PwC's (PricewaterhouseCoopers') expanding Corporate Risk & Treasury Advisory business. I wanted to connect about my exciting new executive search for a new West Region Treasury Director.

PwC is expanding and this is an opportunity to grow a global practice working with a broad array of leading products and services client companies typically over $1 billion in sales.

Summary Details for West Region Treasury Director opportunity with PwC:

- Market Need: Need a catalyst treasury resource to cover markets in Southern CA, Northern CA, and Seattle
- Business Case: Expect the candidate to support a business of at least $3MM, supporting a half-dozen professionals
- Candidate Profile: Candidate would have a breadth of treasury experience and will bring strong treasury technology capabilities to scale project size
- People & Utilization: Common skills in treasury and commodity
- Current/prior Big 4 or large consulting firm experience and 6+ years of business development skills

For immediate consideration or to refer a potential candidate, please contact me at the following email address and include a resume in confidence. Thank you.
